

The Vance Monument

News and Observer; July 9, 1899;
pg. X

THE VANCE MONUMENT.

Baltimore Sun.

The people of North Carolina honor themselves in the erection on the Capitol grounds at Raleigh of a monument to Zebulon B. Vance. In his day Mr. Vance was easily the ablest and most popular man in North Carolina, and no son ever served her more earnestly and devotedly. The model selected for the monument is one submitted by Mr. Henry J. Elliott, of Washington, D. C., and it is said Mrs. Vance, the widow of the distinguished North Carolinian, greatly admires the model and pronounces it a perfect likeness.