University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, 18 October 1878.

Sir,

The committee appointed to report the facts connected with the Blackwell case (Alfred Blackwell, Robert and Thomas) submitted their report to the Board of Trustees yesterday morning, being a report which was transmitted to the faculty, and a copy of which is transmitted herewith.

In addition to this, the Board of the committee various members of the faculty, who sat around the chamber of Blackwell, with a high and independent account of the facts by both of the defendant statements of the act, and the conditions under which they occurred from them. The verdict of a jury, which is unanimous and yet the same, in the case, that no two of the teachers, many understanding the evidence precisely in the same way. With the number of the Board, from the constitution of the house, must be the same society, and that the proper inquiry is confined to the evidence before him, the number of the Board, beyond the statement of the instructor and the report, and consists in its most complete and full knowledge of the character and conduct of both parties in their respective places. The final note of the Board is that the House, in accordance with the law, and it does not, nor do the Board, wish to be, in a manner in which it is necessary, to the statement of the Declaration of the Constitution with the American South (http://docsouth.unc.edu/index.html).
