of first, second, third & fourth.

2d. That none be admitted into the first literary class as students, until they shall have passed a competent examination by the faculty on B. Caesars Commentaries, Salust, Ovid, & Virgil or other Latin Books equivalent & the Greek Grammar.

3d. That the exercise of this Class be the study of English Grammar, Roman antiquities & such parts of the Roman historians, orators, & poets as may seem necessary to the Officers of the University; together