Strick of the monitors bill as often as he choses, with t a statement of the students negligence, to his Guardian.
25th. That the monitors bill be called for publicly every monday evening & every transgression of these laws be brought to an account.
26th. That these laws be publicly read once every year before the whole University or oftener if judged necessary.
& that one of the officers of the University deliver to the students an address on the necessity & advantage of observing the laws; or that a student from the classes