them, went to this cotton picking. These two were Farmer Burton, Joseph Green. Mr. Herr intended to admonish them before the whole University; but, Mr. Green thinking that he would get off clear, he went he went away and after he was gone, was banished by the faculty.

The steward provides very simply. There is no one in College that does not complain for this long time, the bread has not been as nice as Miss's books for herself, to eat, it is impossible to describe the badness of the tea and coffee, and the meat generally stinks, has maggots in it.

I shall not omit getting a list of the books we shall want next year.

Our sheets are very bad, but we shall in due course make them hold out, as it is a very hard matter to get, and hired. I could not get a pair up for myself for less than eighteen shillings, I think, but would be proper to send up a couple of pairs for us to wear down, as I suppose ours will be wore out. I have taken the full measure of our foot, if you will see a notchion on the side of the paper, that is the full measure. Therefore please to give our compliments to our Mother & Grandmother.

We remain your dutiful sons John & Bethia.
