the word "Fordeye." The students stood in all parts of the Chapel regardless of classes. Prof. Hepburn gave out that the 3rd section would have him in Compositions immediately after prayers. Nearly all the Sect. had had of it before but he had not given out the notice publicly and I did not carry any composition. He read out the Compositions of W. Smith, Staten, Skinner and two others, the authors of whom I do not know.
He did not read out the authors' names but only the Compositions.
Not taken up by Jackson. Read about 150 pages in Kronastra, not trying to read, since, last evening I had to make it up by day. I don't like it very much. Taken up by Mr. Smith in the evening on the previous lesson.
As good first rate. Went a walk to Phiney Prospect after supper with
