Halifax, Nov. 6th 91.

My Dear Sir,

I wrote you by last post since which Judge Williams has attempted north on the plan of a rescue for the papers just being used to some calculation of the expense. I shall the ready to lay a plan of this co an estimate, if the later letters can be made before I set out to the Federal Court. I am afraid such a present will cost a larger sum than we can of present means, but as it would require two years at least to acquire two years at least to

D. & perhaps our friends collected here in New hure.
