To the care, watchful care and prompt action of Andrew Michel, Esq., viciously stabbed to the heart and responsibility of the Vector of the University, who with aid of other efficient helpers of the Village, attended the body as well they could. The described condition of the body of the entire college building, covered with dust and neglect, this about 8th o'clock a.m., and undoubtedly it is a wonder that the damage was not very much larger. Mr. Michel at once gave information as to his efforts of the Wednesday and at 10 A.M. a supply of the best oil was ordered from New York and a large and active force doubted to repair the damage. This was an idea for which an estimate was made and which went with the cost of material and workmen that were made an addition to the papers of about five hundred dollars. On the first work of the Chairman on the discussion of Mr. Michel was according to the preservation of the Hall Library of the Villan Horto Society, he was invite to call to his aid his associates, and during an adjournment the obligation of immediate action not only for the restoration of the University building but of all the college property. The tribute was taken to organize an efficient and thorough.
