And be it further ordained, that it shall be a part of the duty of the presiding of the junior and sophomor classes, under the direction of the president of the university, or at the charge of the institute, to cause that the proper arrangements be made preparatory to each and every commencement, by public call or order for public speaking, providing for the lighting of candles—preparing and placing seats in order for the accommodation of the trustees, the society, the students and others.

And be it further ordained, that the tutor of the preparatory school shall by himself or his agent at least three times in each and every week visit by night the rooms or abode the students of the preparatory school shall reside: and any student who shall be absent from his room after the hour fixed by the laws of the university for the students on the establishment without sufficient excuse shall be punished at the direction of the president of the university and the tutor of the preparatory school.

And be it lastly ordained that in addition to his ability to make good the damages every student of the preparatory school who shall be adjudged by the president of the university, and by the tutor of the said school, to be guilty of wilfully injuring the buildings or any of the property belonging to the university being more than six-teen years of age shall for every such offence be publicly reprimanded with not less than five