If we wish such scenes to cease, we must propound the established religion of our land. I ask what opposition have we to that such a state of things will not exist? If we consent that “philosophy which teaches by example” which we now hear, we know every thing which leads to encourage our forces nothing to ally them. What this generation will inherit from religion as the prevailing religion in the United States I do not say, but it is of immigration certain as it has begun. Yet many generations will have been introduced with the drum in the world with the prophet offering our state and religious training of emancipation which upon our people. And if there be oppression standing it is the tyranny of the people if there be object taking it is the wantonness of the tyrant.

In consequence from President if it is possible that our officers should become corrupt, and our officers drug opposite, that the elective franchise should be into an empty name that annually should arise it by our hand in our lands, that the remnant of ignorance and vice should spread among us, blasting with its fatal breath all vegetable beauty and intelligence and finally that we should present to the world the meanest epitome of a society confined within immigration, but if on the other hand we wish to have down to succeeding people the rights and privileges which have been sought to us to keep the contravention of our liberties bright and undeniable and to be to the world an example of a few one and half people go people in the full enjoyment of the largest liberty, protected by laws them let us stand in sacred forms of

Thomas J. Robinson

© Copyright 2006 by the University Library, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, all rights reserved.
Documenting the American South (http://docsouth.unc.edu/index.html)